William Shakespeare's-

‘The Seven Ages of Man’
Who is this man?
William Shakespeare

England

Borned on 23rd April 1564

Married with 3 children
William Shakespeare

- Worked as an actor
- World's greatest playwright
- Poems/history/comedy
His famous works...

- A Midsummer Night’s Dream
- Hamlet
- King Lear
- Macbeth
- Romeo and Juliet
- The Seven Ages of Man
Today we just talk about:
The Seven Ages of Man
The First Stage

The infant

He cries and sleeps in the nurse’s arm.
The Second Stage

The schoolboy

He creeps like snail and does not want to go to school.
The Third Stage

The youth

He is at the peak of love and romance. He sighs deeply for his lover’s attention.
The Fourth Stage

The solider

He promises to guard his country and more concerned with status and reputation.
The Fifth Stage

The adult

He is full of wisdom and his belly becomes bigger and bigger.
The Sixth Stage

The middle-age

He learns to relax. He legs shrink and he needs spectacles for reading.
The old-age

He enters his second childhood and is being forgotten. He loses his sight, hearing and taste.
Which stage are you at now?

No matter which stage you are at now, treasure it!